

I deeply resent the privacy of my home being invaded by telemarketers. I'm currently on a no call list, I have purchased a telezapper, and I pay extra for caller ID, but still an occasional unwanted call makes it through. My response has always been, and will continue to be, my hanging up. That is my choice. I do not want any of these calls. THAT IS MY CHOICE ALSO! I would prefer that these calls never come. If the law is changed and I start to receive calls again, I will live without a phone, rather than have to deal with the ANNOYING AND UNWANTED calls!
